Subject: Comments Regarding Federal Regulations Including Federal Regulations Affecting Small Business

Hello:

I work for a small Technology company privately owned by a man, but I am one of the directors and a women. We are facing the problem of obtaining small group medical benefits for our employees.

We have 9 employees at the moment, since we are integrators for Electronic Document Management Systems (EDMS), our employees are located in several different states. I know for a larger corporations this is not a problem, but for our small business, companies will not insure us because they have all kinds of rules or laws that apply to smaller businesses. Are there any associations you know of that are in the Burlington, NC area that we can join group health benefits through. I have already contacted the local Area Chamber of Commerce and they do not offer benefits. I headquarters is located in NC.

Also, while I have you..ForeFront Technologies is a small technology company we provide customizations and solutions for EDMS, as well as integrations and upgrades. Many of our clients and potential clients are government companies, or funded by the government. I was wondering if you could assist us to get on preferred vendor lists etc. and also if you had a list or access to a list of the government funded companies that use contractors for technology including, IT Departments, and Management Information Systems Departments (MIS). I am also having a hard time, being with a small business, obtaining info to find what Fortune 500 and Fortune 1000 companies (or larger) whom use contractors or outside resources for MIS or IT/Networking services.

I am sorry to dump all these questions on you at one time, but I was really motivated by our President's Speech, and I feel that the future of America is looking brighter because of our President, his beliefs and the way he handles this country. He is the best President in our country that I can remember. Make sure you tell him that for me!!
If you could send me info or some kind of resources to find this information I need, I would really appreciate it. If you need any additional information, please let me know.

Thank you in advance for any assistance or information you can provide.

Have a great day!
